EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

This Bill seeks to amend the Electricity Act (Cap. 89A).

Clause 1 relates to the short title and commencement.

Clause 2(a) makes a technical amendment to the definition of “Appeal Panel”.

Clause 2(b) and (c) amend the definition of “earthworks”. Clause 2(b) makes it clear that “earthworks” relates to works carried out on, in or under the ground (and not only the act of excavation). Clause 2(c) extends the definition of “earthwork” to the driving or sinking of any bar, rod, pole, casing or tube into the ground (and not only of any earth rod, casing or tube).

Clause 2(d) amends paragraph (a) of the definition of “electrical installation” to clarify its ambit.

Clause 2(e) amends the definition of “electricity cable” to include apparatuses and devices that are remotely or wirelessly connected to the connector or connectors, as well as data communication cables.

Clause 2(f) inserts new definitions of “meter” and “meter installation”.

Clause 3 amends section 6(1) to extend the prohibited activities set out in that provision, to activities relating to electricity that the Minister of Trade and Industry (the Minister) prescribes by way of order in the Gazette.

Clause 4 makes a consequential amendment to section 9, following from the amendment to section 6(1) at clause 3.

Clause 5 amends section 10 to clarify that the section applies where a contestable consumer continues as such.

Clause 6 inserts a new section 20A to empower the Energy Market Authority of Singapore (“Authority”) to direct any electricity licensee to allow a transmission licensee to connect the electrical plant or electrical line of the transmission licensee to the electrical plant of that electricity licensee. As the connection is intended to be a long-term arrangement, the Authority may further direct that the 2 licensees enter into an agreement concerning the maintenance of the connection, and any compensation to be paid by the transmission licensee to that electricity licensee. If the parties are unable to agree on the terms of the agreement, either party may request that the Minister establish an Appeal Panel to determine the terms of the agreement.

Clauses 7 to 12 make various amendments to Part IVA (Control of Electricity Licensees and Entities with Interests in Transmission Systems) to bring this Part in alignment with Part VIIB of the Gas Act (Cap. 117A).

Clause 13 deletes and substitutes subsection (1) of section 41 to make it clear that regulations made under that subsection can provide for the circumstances in which a contestable consumer ceases to be such. The clause further amends section 41(10) to clarify that the provision applies where a contestable consumer continues as such.

Clause 14 inserts a new section 53A to empower the Authority to issue guidelines to provide practical guidance and certainty in respect of provisions under Part VII (Competition), and to provide for the evidential value of the guidelines.

Clauses 15 and 16 amend sections 64 and 65, respectively, to clarify that an Appeal Panel established for the purposes of the Act is established under section 65. Clause 16 further makes a consequential amendment to section 65 for the purposes of the new section 20A inserted under clause 6.

Clause 17 makes consequential amendments to section 66 for the purposes of the new section 20A inserted under clause 6.

Clause 18 amends section 79 to clarify that the prohibition concerning earthworks within the vicinity of any low voltage electricity cable in subsection (1) of that section, does not apply to an electricity licensee in relation to any low voltage electricity cable under the management or control of the electricity licensee.

Clause 19 amends section 80 to clarify that the prohibition concerning earthworks within the vicinity of any high voltage electricity cable in subsection (1) of that section, does not apply to an electricity licensee in relation to any high voltage electricity cable under the management or control of the electricity licensee.

Clause 20 deletes and substitutes subsection (1) of section 82, and inserts new subsections (1A) to (1D), to provide for the prohibitions concerning the carrying out of electrical works.

- (a) Subsections (1) and (1A) relate to the individual actually carrying out electrical works.
- (b) Subsections (1B) and (1C) relate to persons (whether or not individuals) that, in the course of business, provide or offer or undertake to provide electrical works. This would include, for example, a firm or company in the business of providing electrical works. The firm or company must ensure that the individuals that carry out electrical works for the firm or company are licensed electrical workers or carry out the electrical works under the supervision of one or more licensed electrical workers. Subsections (1B) and (1C) would also require, for example, where an interior designer sub-contracts out the electrical works at premises (the renovations for which the interior designer is overseeing) to another person, both the interior designer and the other person to ensure that any individual carrying out the electrical works is a licensed electrical worker or carries out the electrical works under the supervision of one or more licensed electrical workers. This is even though it is the other person that provides the individual carrying out the electrical works.
- (c) Subsection (1D) prohibits an owner or occupier of premises that wishes to have electrical works carried out at the premises, from knowingly engaging (whether or not for consideration) a person that is not permitted under subsection (1) to carry out those works or not permitted under subsection (1B) to provide the carrying out of those works.

Clause 21 deletes and substitutes subsections (1), (2) and (3), and inserts new subsection (3A), in section 85. The offences in subsections (1), (2) and (3) in relation to certain electrical plants and electricity cables are being rationalised, with hindering of use, etc., now under the new subsection (1) and removal, destruction and damage now under the new subsection (2). Under the latter, an offence is committed by an individual who damages, etc., such plant or cable, and any person that caused or permitted the individual to so damage, etc., such plant or cable. With regard to the person causing or permitting the damage, etc., the relationship between the person who caused or permitted the damage, etc., to, and the individual that damaged, etc., such plant or cable is not relevant — an offence is committed so long as the person caused or permitted the individual to damage, etc., such plant or cable. The person can cause the individual to damage, etc., such plant or cable by, for instance, giving to the individual person instructions which, when followed, result in the damage, etc.. This is whether the instructions are given directly to the individual, or indirectly through one or more other parties. Each party involved in “passing on” the instructions (including, if applicable, the employer of the individual) is also guilty of the offence of causing the damage, etc..

Clause 22 inserts a new section 85A to provide for a new offence in relation to damage to submarine electric lines and electric cables.
